

New to Incus Surgical Limited:

Wilkinson Locking Forcep & Wilkinson Punch

Designed by Mr Michael C.P. Wilkinson

The locking forceps are of most use in grasping the tibial plateau during a knee replacement, though they can grasp and hold tissues of any thickness. The prosthesis punch is used for removing metal, and can also be used as a general purpose bone punch.

